

Vincent Mangado & Dominique Jambert studied at the National Drama School in Toulouse, then worked for 5 years in a company called Le Grenier Théâtre. After that they joined the Théâtre du Soleil - 17 years ago - and they have been working with the company ever since. They participated in all the plays of the company, directed by Ariane Mnouchkine. They started to teach 4 years ago and were awarded a National Diploma of Theater, which allows them to teach in the National Drama Schools.
